VESSELS COLLIDE IN FOG, FOUR PASSENGERS DIE

PARENTS RECONCILED TO HAVE BOYS JAILED FOR LIFE

NEITHER PAR'NTS NOR ATTORNEYS WANT YOUTHS FREED

CHICAGO, July 22.—The millionaire parents of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Robert Franks, 14, are reconciled to having the boys jailed for life, Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, declared in revealing to the United Press the dramatic conference of attorneys and relatives to decide on a line of action. "Neither the parents nor the defense attorneys want to see the boys freed," Darrow said, "but we do not want them to hang." Darrow told of the agonizing scene when the parents of the youthful slayers agreed to throw their sons' fate upon the mercy of the court. "We went into the matter thoroughly. We argued amongst ourselves at times but finally at a conference of attorneys and members of the families we decided that there was only one thing to do, to plead guilty and accept whatever the court decided. Young Leopold's father was particularly affected. He wept like a child."

CHICAGO, July 22.—"They deserve to hang!"

"They must hang!"

This is the chant of death of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe—a chant which he insists he will carry on until Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, mount the gallows.

Crowe, his long pugnacious jaw set hard, his head like eyes flashing through his eye glasses, told the United Press today he will spare no effort until the youthful slayers are given the death sentence. He is calling 100 State witnesses and his entire staff of alienists and assistant prosecutors to show that the boys are sane, "and prove it so conclusively," that Chief Justice John R. Caverly, of the Criminal Court, "will have no other recourse than to impose the sentence of death on the defendants," who yesterday entered pleas of guilty to murder and kidnapping.

The chant of death is the peroration to almost every conversation with Crowe concerning the Franks case. He talks it to newspapermen, to his staff of prosecutors, to the attorneys for the defense.

When Benjamin Bachrach, an attorney for the defense, asked the court to allow alienists for both sides to submit a joint report on the mental condition of the boys, Crowe thrust out his jaw and cried:

"They are sane. They are guilty. They must hang, and they shall hang."

POLITICS CLAIMS LIFE OF EDITOR N SOUTH TEXAS

THREE RIVERS, Texas, July 22.—Jay R. Secret, editor of the Oil News Weekly, published at Callahan and candidate for the State Legislature is reported to have been shot and killed in the oil fields ten miles west of here late last night. Poor communication lines prevented particulars incident to the killing reaching here early today. First reports, however, stated an oil field operator, whose name was not given, was implicated and animosities arising from the political campaign caused the shooting.

ALL DOGS MUST COMPLY WITH NEW LAW TODAY

Citizens are now complying with the requirements of the new ordinance providing for the vaccination of all dog inhabitants of this city against rabies. For the past several days, the yelps of canines has caused some folks to wonder whose kickin' my dog around. Upon investigation they found that they were merely submitting to the application of the vaccine, by which Mexia dogs are entitled to naturalization papers that make of them docile creatures and proverbial friends of man. According to orders received by the police department, there are to be no exceptions to the new law and members of the department will begin Wednesday to kill the dogs that have not met the requirements of the ordinance designed to protect public health and safeguard human life. It is the hope of the officials of the city that every citizen who owns a dog will have complied with the requirements of the law by tonight, so that the work will be light on the police force and easier on the dogs.

Rum Fleet Physician Braves Jail.

Dr. Royston Foulkes, an Australian, recent graduate in medicine from an English university, took as his first job the post of physician on the four-masted schooner "Rask," rum running off the American coast. When Ralph Conrad, on the "Elise B.," another rum runner in Rum Row, was severely burned, Dr. Foulkes realized his life would be lost unless he could get to a hospital. Knowing that he faced years in prison if he landed in America from the rum fleet, the physician responded to the call of his profession and took the injured sailor into New York. For his heroic act the Coast Guard refused to prosecute him, and returned him to the rum fleet under a flag of truce.

VICTORIOUS U. S. ATHLETES ARE HOMEWARD BOUND

PARIS, July 22.—America's victorious Olympic contenders are headed homeward. The games of 1924, are over—except for a few inconsequential events—and the United States has scored its most complete triumph of the thirty years since the modern Olympiads were inaugurated.

Champions in track and fields, swimming, rowing, boxing, rugby, wrestling and target shooting—our teams have totaled more than twice as many points as France, the nearest competitor.

According to the French committee's way of figuring, America's total point score for the eighth Olympiad is 95, France second with 47; Britain third, with 38 and Finland fourth with 34. There remains to be decided the championships in weight lifting, cycling, yachting and equestrian games, but nothing that can happen can detract from the convincing performance of the Americans against the world.

The games were a financial failure, bad sportsmanship developed frequently; crowds hissed and booed while the national anthem of a successful nation other than the French was being played and there were other causes for regret which led the English sports writers to declare the Olympic not worth while.

But to America, with her crop of new champions—the tennis titles captured by youngsters, Vincent Richards and Helen Wills, the swimming by our girls in their teens, the track and field games developing such titleholders as Leo Barnes, California school boy and the target shooting producing a juvenile sensation—the games were certainly worth while in bringing out the new athletic strength of the United States and demonstrating our superiority in athletic endeavor.

Some of the American track and field stars went to London and "cleaned up" in a meet with the British in which the sportsmanship was in pleasing contrast to that of the games here. Others went to Vienna and swept everything before them there. The great Yale crew whose victory won us the rowing championship was scattered through Europe, Captain Rockefeller and some of the others planning to come home around the world.

He had been despondent since the death of his wife and had talked of committing suicide, according to his relatives.

LATIMER COUNTY IS QUIET AS SETTLEMENT IS SOUGHT

WILBURTON, Okla., July 22.—Latimer county settled down today to watchful waiting as preliminaries for the conference between union officials and operators in this section to attempt a settlement of the wage scale dispute get under way. The conference was called by Acting Governor Anglin for July 28, at Oklahoma City.

Adjutant General Baird Markham and a score of national guardsmen remained in this section today upon intelligence work.

Presence of the guardsmen, Markham pointed out, were not an indication of State control but merely for information sources to keep the adjutant in touch with conditions at the various mines.

Tension in the coal fields, where contrasting wage scales of union and open shop system caused a flare up at the Kala-Inda mine last Friday, when union workmen forced open shop workers to leave their post, had lessened today with the arrival of the State investigators.

OTHERS INJURED AS STEAMSHIP AND TANKER CRASH

NEW PORT, R. I., July 22.—The lives of four passengers were crushed out and a fifth hurled himself overboard in his grief at the loss of his wife. Others aboard the steamship Boston were badly injured when the vessel was rammed in a fog bound entrance to Rock Island Sound shortly before last midnight. The oil tanker Swift Arrow which crashed into the Boston in the dense fog, was able to make port under her own power. Six hundred passengers from the Boston were rescued in small boats and brought ashore here. The Boston was taking in water through a gaping hole in the starboard side, and was towed here. Tugs and coast guard cutters brought the injured and survivors.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—Sinking slowly, but with her 600 passengers safely transferred to rescue ships, the Eastern Steamship liner Boston, was towed towards Newport today following a midnight collision off Point Judith with the oil tanker Swift Arrow during a heavy fog. The Boston was being towed by the Fall River Line steamer Commonwealth.

The liner's passengers—she was one of the night boats plying between Boston and New York were taken to New York aboard the Fall River liner Priscilla, one of a host of large and small craft which answered the Boston's S.O.S.

The first known casualty of the crash was brought here today aboard the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. C. Copeland, of Brookline, Mass., was found to have sustained a fractured leg, shoulder blade and internal injuries. He was taken to Newport hospital.

Wireless messages from the fog-bound entrance to Block Island Sound, where the crash occurred, contained reports of four or five persons killed but later advices said these were "unreliable."

The Commonwealth got a line to the Boston and started slowly for Newport, eight miles away, with Captain A. W. Call, a wireless operator and a few hands remaining aboard the sinking steamer.

Upon a report that the liner might have to be beached before reaching here, another naval tug went out this morning. Already on the scene early today were three naval tugs, the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, the liner New York, sister ship of the Boston and several vessels of the Fall River line.

The Priscilla was due in New York with the Boston's passengers about 11 a.m.

The only available passenger list of the Boston was aboard the liner itself, and company headquarters at Boston, Mass., could not furnish the names of those who had taken the steamer which left at 5 p. m. Monday on her regular run to New York.

The Boston, which left Boston for New York last night was nosing her way cautiously southwestward, a short distance off Point Judith, R. I., in a dense blanket of fog when the accident occurred.

The liner has a capacity of 900 passengers and is generally well taxed during the summer season. About 600 were aboard last night.

The offer loomed suddenly out of the darkness, according to first reports and struck the Boston amidship, tearing a hole in her side.

Whether those passengers reported killed were asleep in their state rooms which were stove-in upon them, or whether they were on the deck enjoying the cool night air, was not made clear in the early wireless messages which did not give the names of the dead.

Despite the confusion that followed immediately upon the crash, transferring of passengers to the tankers which was not badly damaged, began. Lifeboats were lowered, the water being calm and no serious panic ensued.

Meanwhile the night was filled with "S.O.S." appeals and a Coast Guard cutter, three naval tugs and three of big liners that ply between Boston and New York were rushing to the position reported by the Boston. Because of the fog the rescue

FAMOUS FRENCH RECIPES

(By International News Service)

Mont Blanc with Strawberries.

PARIS, July 22.—In the kitchen a "Mont Blanc" means a delicious mountain of strawberries with cream. Make a mold of biscuit de Savoie which is really a light sponge cake. Pile on it a tall pyramid of whipped cream or thick Chantilly. Nap the cake as well.

Choose medium size strawberries and let stand in a syrup of kirsch for a good half hour. Stick them into the cream. Choose larger ones and roll in crystallized sugar. Place them in a wreath about the cake and also stick into the cream. Put the largest one on the summit.

YOU HATE TO LOOK AT A PIMPLY FACE

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them, and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurements.

But now that Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them and making themselves attractive to others instead of being slighted all the time.

All dealers have Black and White Ointment, and Soap, in the convenient, low-priced, liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. —(Adv.)

Here's How It Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

NUMBER X

Following Mr. Bryan's address in favor of the majority report of the platform committee, in which he had discussed the religious issue, the roll call of states proceeded and its results have become well known history. The majority plank was sustained by a majority of only one vote. The tabulation showed 542 3-20ths for the majority plank and 541 and 3-20ths against the majority report or for the minority plank condemning the Klan by name.

This happened about 1:50 a. m. the first Sunday morning of the convention session.

The vote was so close that every spectator and participant was "on his toes". Many had tabulated the results as the vote was recorded. Homer Cummings was busy during the critical period. Many states gained recognition from the chair and votes were changed for or against the planks, until it became obvious that the slight lead while the minority partisans were doing their utmost to change the votes necessary to win. The Chairman, Senator Walsh, also kept his eye on the results apparently and was evidently mighty glad to call for the vote to be announced. The minority would have won had a less fair Chairman presided. For, since the vote was so close, the opposition could have probably found some delegate who would have changed his vote to meet the desires of those who were behind the attack on the majority plank.

It is customary to say that a hush settles over an audience which knows it is about to experience a thrill. That was not true, however, at the close of the debate and voting on the religious issue. There was every stir everywhere and noises intruded. When a state cast a vote in favor of the plank naming the Klan, opponents of the order gave vent to their feelings in shout of rejoicing. By this time, too, friends of the majority report from all parts of the south, north, east and west, but especially from the south and west cheered every vote against the minority plank, greeting omission of the name Ku Klux Klan and also the language disapproving of "union of church and state" understood to have been anti-papal utterances, with much elation and approval.

So, it was that a religious battle was waged upon the floor of Madison Square Garden, which had it not taken place there, would have been waged in every congressional district in these United States where the Democratic party reaps a harvest of ballots. Heretofore, the platform has represented the thought and hopes and prayers of representatives whose decisions have usually been accepted quietly and with approval, certainly without disapproval. Still there were many in New York who claimed to be Democrats, just like there are many all over Texas who claim to be Democrats, who reject the democratic party platform and try to make their own man uncture. For example, today there are candidates for office in this State who totally ignore the platform of principles of the party. The Democrats voted to keep the Klan name out of politics and here in this country today, especially where it is popular to do so, there are candidates who are injecting its name at every opportunity. If they are not pleased with the Democratic party's stand on the principle as propounded in the platform why do they not get out of the party, organize one of their own whims and run on its ticket, instead of posing before the people at the polls as being what they are not.

Let us join Mr. Bryan in his great appeal and say Christians quit your fighting. "I call you back in the name of our party. I call you back in the name of our God. I call you back in the name of our Savior." Don't inject the Klan into the campaign. It has no place in it, just as it had no place in the platform as announced by the National Convention.

The issue was injected into the National convention wholly by political manipulation and greedy politicians used it there for their own private gains just as they are trying to use it now back home in sections and neighborhoods in this country.

It was the tragedy of the party at New York in a large measure. Never were Democrats more united than they were when the session convened, as far as great party principles and issues were concerned.

At the conclusion of the debate, William Gibbs McAdoo's chances for nomination had faded with those of Alfred E. Smith. The religious strife together with the dark horse, that proved to be stalking horse, sometimes called favorite sons, brought about the defeat of Mr. McAdoo. Alabama and Virginia held out against Mr. McAdoo and for their own favorite sons. Had they not divided the South, Mr. McAdoo would have received the majority of votes at one juncture, and then, other dark horses would have gotten out of the way and he would have been nominated.

Had he been nominated, the Al Smith element would have bolted the party. The common expression by New Yorkers, during the convention, was that they would not vote for any Democrat nominee unless it was Al Smith.

The balloting on the President began at the session following the culmination of the scrap on the platform, which led to the selection of John W. Davis, a great patriot, an able statesman, and one of the mighty men of the Democratic party.

True blue Democrats will stand by the platform and by its nominees. We are democrats.

LETTERS From the People

In regard to the speaking of Jamie Heron here Friday night, Val Horn has received the following letter:

Waco, Texas, July 21, 1924.

Anderson & Horn Drug Co.,

Mexia, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Jamie Heron, recognized throughout the country as one of America's leading inspirational speakers and writers, is in Texas for the purpose of writing a story on the possibilities and grandeur of Texas.

Mr. Heron will speak in your city on Friday evening, July 25th, at 8 o'clock, and I sincerely hope that it will be possible for you to hear him. He is visiting with the writer and on the account you will have the opportunity of hearing him without cost to your community, which otherwise would be rather expensive for you because of the necessity of bringing him to you and reimbursing him for his time.

His whole purpose of visiting you is because of my having requested him to do so in connection with the story which he is preparing on Texas. You have never heard, I am sure, a more eloquent speaker or one who is more interesting and entertaining and I trust that you will hear him.

Sincerely yours,

J. M. Penland,
President Waco Drug Co.

Miss Helen Wills, the little California champion, defeated Mrs. Molly Bjurstedt Mallory in the Olympic tennis matches in Paris by decisive scores. Mrs. Mallory used harsh language to the officials because of some of their rulings. Mrs. Mallory, though an American citizen and the wife of a New York shipping magnate, was compelled to represent her native Norway in the Olympics. Frank D. Kellogg, American Ambassador to Great Britain, acted as American representative during the reparations conference in London. Pope Pius will give a medal to the Catholic Women's Diocesan Clubs, to be given to the club evolving the most attractive modest fashions in women's clothing.

MANY FIGURED IN STEAMER CRASH

vessels could not safely approach too close to the stricken liner, for the waters all about were filled with life boats.

As for the Boston, her fires were drawn, which meant that power to operate the big siren was missing and the vessel's lights were dimmed.

Afraid to push too close to the Boston, for fear of ramming a life boat, the large ships played their powerful searchlights on the water and toward the welcome circles of light, piercing the fog, the boat's crews rowed.

The master and the radio operator stayed aboard the Boston and sent a warning to the rescue ships:

"Be careful of the small boats on our starboard side. Our condition fair."

Aboard the Boston was Post Captain Charles T. Snow, commodore of the Eastern Steamship Company's fleet.

Although the conflicting wireless messages flashed ashore said four—one report said five—had been killed aboard the Boston, a message from C. A. Smith, said:

"Reports of death are unreliable. The message did not explain itself.

The naval station at Newport sent the tugs Rail, Teal and Boblink while the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, which was on duty on "Run Row," was early headed for the scene.

The Swift Arrow was bound from Fall River to San Francisco. Its course lay across that of the Eastern Steamship liner and the tanker struck the passenger steamer on the starboard side.

Lookouts on neither vessel observed the other until but a few yards separated them.

Immediately following the collision which threw passengers on the Boston into confusion, both vessels set up a wailing and shrieking of sirens, while Captain Call took a hasty inventory of the damage and ordered the lifeboats manned.

Passengers were ordered to the boats, many of them partly clad and were lowered over the side and rowed to the Swift Arrow.

She tanker could not accommodate all those who sought safety in flight from the Boston and many lifeboats paddled about, awaiting the rescue ships.

Soon the Boston's siren began to sound more and more faintly. When the first of the naval tugs arrived and asked the liner to keep sounding her siren, the wireless operator replied that the power was gone. The steamer's lights had gradually gone out and only the feeble flicker of oil lanterns showed in the fog.

Word of picking up the passengers who were in the small boats was proceeded with caution.

Meanwhile the water was pouring in through a gasping hole in the Boston's side. It was feared she was sinking.

With the passengers apparently safely picked up—although a wireless message picked up at 6:20 a. m., said "report all boats picked up. Several missing." The Commonwealth shot a line to the Boston and took her in tow, heading for Newport, eight miles away.

Miss Sophonia Ward has just returned from a pleasant visit with Mrs. A. P. King at her country home "Long Acre," at White Rock near Dallas.

Home Owning Stabilizes A City

The community and city that wishes to be really great must develop within its citizens the home loving and home owning instinct. It is true that in order to have a home it is not necessary to own a house. Frequently people own a house who do not enjoy a good home life. Love can reign in a cottage even though the rent is high or the monthly payments are hard to make. But all things being equal, the city reflects greatest progress that can show the largest per centage of people who own or are in the way to own their own home and hearthstones. The cottage merges with the home idea; it becomes an integral part of the home experience such as it never could do if the firm foothold of the landlord were periodically heard on the doorstep. However this may be, there is nothing that tends to stability and strength in a community more than for citizens to own their own homes. Mexia citizens, struggling to earn their way through the world for themselves and their loved ones, appreciate deeply every big hearted fellow man who helps them own their homes. The city is most fortunate which can boast of men who live not solely for self but who go out of their way, day by day, to make the city better and brighter and to bring cheer to their fellow citizens. They are helping to build a real city here.

Citizens, Do Your Duty!

At the Democratic Convention in New York City, Senator Pat Harrison founded a keynote for the party. He reviewed the graft and greed of the Republicans who had betrayed the trust the party had imposed in them and made an eloquent plea in behalf of clean, business like government by the Democratic party. The Democrats now must take the lesson home and apply the keynote to their own party, to their own communities, counties and states where they are in the saddle and on the throne. In the consideration of this phase of his address, there comes to the mind the memory of a famous quotation that invites those without blame to cast the first stone.

Democratic citizens, in democratic primaries, in democratic counties of a democratic state must go to the polls next Saturday with the idea full grown and beautiful to consider that they must help secure clean government for themselves and their children by voting for dependable men and women of lofty character whose records are too high and above reproach for the hand of the prober to ever reach and pull down. Patriotism does not end at home but it surely begins at home. Limestone County and Texas for the day are "America."

When the ballot is being perused and considered, pause before each candidate and ask; is he the right sort of character; will he serve his county or himself; will he be the kind of office holder that I, as a good Democrat, can point to with the pride of one who knows that he is giving his vote to someone who will safeguard the interests of the whole people, without regard to special privileges being extended to anyone; will he bring to the office that highest type of efficiency which will help us to build a greater county and conduct the office in such a manner as to reflect honor to himself and credit to his people?

Our public domain has been preyed upon by millionaire plunderers; our natural resources have been the objective of gigantic corporations. As Mr. Bryan said in his address at New York, the swindlers have stolen more than ten times as much as was stolen by all the inmates of all the prisons in these United States today. In all directions the terrific energies of those exalted by special privileges have been expended in wresting from the hand of labor the results of the sweat of its brow, leaving a trail of discontent and want in its wake.

"Antiquity was scandalized when Cleopatra dissolved and drank a pearl valued at four hundred thousand dollars; and historians comment in tones of rebuke upon the luxuries of Lucullus, who spent eight thousand five hundred dollars on a feast."

The Latins sunk under the weight of special privilege, but Americans, Texans, sons of the Alamo, are descendants of a sturdier race than the Latins. It was the Teuton, our progenitors, who annihilated the Roman force, that called to the lips of the Emperor Augustus the cry, "Oh, Varus, give me back my Legions!"

And if Limestone County citizens, if Texas citizens who profess faith in the Democratic party and who give their allegiance to it, tamely submit to those who would erect strongholds upon the heights of special privilege, then we will be the first branch of the great family of which we are a member that ever weakened in the face of opposition or who surrendered supinely to its whims and mandates.

Men and women, Limestone County expects every citizen to do his duty next Saturday, from the Governor to Constable.

NEGRO SERIOUSLY INJURED ON GEORGE EVANS FARM

Raymond Dupree, colored, was seriously injured late Monday afternoon on the George Evans farm about three miles northwest of Mexia. Dupree was at work at the foot of a windmill when an iron pipe fell about thirty feet striking him on the head and fracturing his skull. He was rushed to the Brown hospital where an operation was performed by Drs. Hamm and Brown. Immediately after the operation he was carried to his home in the J. I. Riddle ambulance, and is expected to recover.

DIED IN DALLAS

From the Dallas News: "Mrs. J. R. Dailey, 68 years old, 238 Fifth street, Oak Cliff, died early Saturday morning at a local sanitarium. Mrs. Dailey is survived by Mr. Dailey, four daughters and three sons."

The body arrived in Mexia Sunday and was carried to Prairie Grove, Texas, for burial, under the direction of the J. I. Riddle Undertaking Co. Mrs. Dailey will be remembered by the old timers in this city as the mother of Howard Dailey who formerly lived in this city.

Oscar Robinson has the contract and is now building a new home for Harry Forrest on South Ross, adjoining Sam Cox's new home. It will cost about $6000 and will be another addition to the home section of the city.

DAVIS WORKS ON FIRST SPEECH IN RACE FOR PRESIDENT

By F. B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DARK HARBOR, Maine, July 21.—Preparatory work on his speech accepting the presidential nomination of the Democratic party was started by John W. Davis Monday.

Freshened by a week-end of golf and the crisp air of the Maine coast, the candidate plunged into work in the best of spirits. The big studio of Charles Dana Gibson at his home on "60-acre Island in Penobscot Bay was converted into a study for the nominee and fitted with every comfort.

Davis went over a mass of correspondence with his secretaries this morning and began work on the material which he will incorporate in his acceptance speech at Clarksburgh, W. Va., next month.

Davis has not decided on the principal points of his speech and may not do so until the end of the week. He was to talk several points over with Frank Polk at luncheon today.

MACHEN SPEAKING DATE ADVERTISED IN REGION

Friends of C. H. Machen are today distributing circulars throughout the section in which it is stated that Mr. Machen, "candidate for District Judge of the 77th Judicial District," will "address the voters of the district at Mexia, Wednesday, July 23, at 8:30 p. m. Mr. Machen will present the claims of his candidacy and will freely, frankly and fearlessly discuss the important issues involved in the campaign. A most cordial invitation is extended the public and ladies are especially urged to be present. Comfortable seats will be provided for the ladies. Speaking down town on street reserved."

HEAVY BURDEN ON PEOPLE

In past nine years, more than 100,000 permanent federal officials have been added to the rolls—increasing cost $196,591,000.

State official payrolls have been increased in numbers and cost so that altogether one out of every twelve workers is a government employee.

Additional laws enacted by Congress and state legislatures at increase taxes and take money away from the producing citizens.

It has been the slogan of the last ten presidents that government payrolls must be cut down in numbers.

Pennsylvania, Illinois, Washington and Idaho have consolidated boards and commissions and materially cut their overhead.

Every state in the union and every department of the federal government could probably trim at least 25 percent off its overhead.

Why not do it?

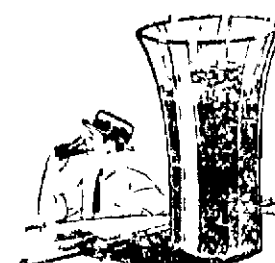

James Blair Harris was a business visitor here from Dallas last Friday.

The ladies of the Eastern Star held their regular installation session Monday night at the Masonic Temple.

Today and Wednesday

This is the first release of the Paramount 1924 and 1925 series. Gloria Swanson's greatest picture.

"I liked the film immensely. The people around me raved about it. 'Manhandled' is the most entertaining picture Gloria has made. It represents the 100% box office picture—has a little of everything in it, comedy, love, plot, and Gloria is in every scene."—Kansas City Post.

"Something for every girl to see is 'Manhandled.'"—Los Angeles Examiner.

"Check up another thrilling hit for Gloria. More fun than anything I have seen in several weeks."—Los Angeles Times.

"'Manhandled' is an unusually interesting and worthy attraction, one which will give the Swanson fans and followers something to talk about for some time."—Los Angeles News.

This picture is being run the same week as at the Palace Theater in Dallas. Be sure and see it.

80,000 cubic feet of fresh air is passed through the National Theater every minute. This is the coolest place in the city.

Gushers Go To Austin For Four Day Series

SLOW FIELDING MARS FOURTH VICTORY BY MARLIN

By HECK

The Marlin Bathers added insult to injury Monday when they walloped the Gushers the final tilt of a four game series and thusly won three of the four games and sent the local crew on their way to Austin with blood in their eye for revenge and let's hope that they take it out on Melver, Hubbard & Co. There was not much to the game except that the Gushers played miserable ball in the field—not a game filled with errors for there were but three but a game which slow fielding, slow thinking and still slower work on the bases spelled defeat. On the other hand the Bathers were playing with their heads up and ran the bases in big league fashion collecting a total of five stolen sacks on the day's play mostly which were due to slow work of the Gusher infielders getting over on throws from both Williamson and Fowlkes. The game opens a four day stand in Austin today and come home for a four game tilt with the league leading Waco Indians next Saturday with a double header set for Sunday in which Jeffries will probably fling his mit at the Indians in both games.

COTTON GIN WINS FROM WORTHAM

The Cotton Gin Terrors continued their winning streak yesterday by defeating Wortham on their own grounds, by the score of 13 to 6. The Gin boys made 6 runs in the first inning and sent the first Wortham pitcher scurrying for cover. The next pitcher fared no better, and even the third one wilted under the heavy batting of the Terrors, which has so characterized their playing in the last six games. The Cotton Gin pitcher held Wortham on his hip for three innings, and after being hit by a pitched ball on the arm, retired in favor of Lightsey. Lightsey was wild, and the Terrors used two other pitchers in the remaining part of the game. Tisdale, the Gin first pitcher is one of the best in this part of the country, having much speed and per-er is raising a helluva lot of racket in defense of his beloved Tribe who may as well take the handle out of their tomahawk if they lose Pee Wee. After all is said and done you gotta hand it to Dupuy for pulling the champion David Harum of the T-A loop and it was to be expected that there was a hook in the deal somewhere when he "sold out" to the Waco sports for twenty-five hundred and I'll stake a bet that Dupuy still has his finger in the Waco club as of old and right now is sitting back grinning like a jacksack eating briars at the latest stink he has raised in the circuit. Right now both clubs are going to the mat with the high powers that be in the baseball world and like nearly all bouts of this kind the club with the bank roll usually wins and at this moment Austin has it on the Waco sports. My hunch is that the league is not yet found a cure for the running sore that Dupuy started it with and I'll stake a bet we will have it with us at the opening of next season.

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE GREAT PORT, SAYS DOLLAR

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Captain Robert Dollar, veteran shipping magnate, today firmly believes that this city will before long surpass New York as the first port in America, following his return from a round-the-world trip, in which he saw at first hand the amazing strides China and the Orient generally were making in securing world commerce.

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELEIER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 22.—Felt hats are now in readiness for hot July days. They made their first appearance at the fashionable Steeplechase races, at Auteuil, on Sunday, when all the smart Parisians came out to greet the new President of the Republic. It was his first real bow to the public since his election, and all society was there.

Straw and lace hats were in evidence, but the smartest were in felt, in severe black, pale gray, white and biscuit color. The shape seemed to be a question taste, for there were large "antennae" and small, close-fitting ones; hats with rolled brims and hats with drooping ones.

These new felts have very little to do with the old felt hats of the past. In fact, many had none at all, except, perhaps, a twist of felt at the side. Many were trimmed with bunches of large red roses, and almost came away with the idea that nothing would be tolerated on the felt hat except the bunch of roses, and it was a pleasant change after a long absence of artificial flowers. There is nothing else to break the severe line—no buckles or ribbons, only the dash of color.

For the Regener, the actress-smoothie who has recently set up a stylish establishment, was wearing a smart hat of yellow felt, with a new high crown and rolled brim. She has appeared roses for this one and trimmed it with a cluster of small gray birds at the base of the crown. Regine Florey, another well-known actress, wore a large brown velvet hat, with a long brown plume falling over one shoulder, and the crown ornamented with a pin in large diamonds.

This Summer felts may not look as cool as straw hats, but they really are, because they come in very fine quality, light in weight and finish, finished with a rounded crown, rather high, and a narrow brim slightly rolled above the face. To wear with them are handsome scarves of black crepe, with large red roses pinned at intervals.

The absence of sunshades was very noticeable. There were but two in the entire paddock, and they were carried by old ladies who did not trust their complexions to ivory-colored powder and new felt bonnets.

PHYSICIAN DECLARES HE HAS CURE FOR HAY FEVER

(U. International News Service)
BOSTON, July 22.—The freedom of the sneeze is a thing of the past, according to Dr. Andrews Christian, well-known Marlboro street physician and surgeon, who claims to have discovered a cure and preventive for hay fever. The discovery was made partly through an accident, according to Dr. Christian.

The treatment consists in part of inhalation from a device charged with ozone, eucalyptus, alcohol and other medicinal ingredients.

It was while using a somewhat similar device in treating a patient that Dr. Christian became aware the treatments were more effective in the evening than in the morning. Investigation revealed leakage or a short circuit when his office was electrically lighted in the evening that set up a beneficial action in the medicines used. Further research resulted in designing the device with which the physician claims he has made many permanent cures of hay fever victims.

VESSELS COLLIDE IN FOG, FOUR PASSENGERS DIE

PARENTS RECONCILED TO HAVE BOYS JAILED FOR LIFE

NEITHER PARNTS NOR ATTORNEYS WANT YOUTHS FREED

CHICAGO, July 22.—The millionaire parents of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Robert Franks, 14, are reconciled to having the boys jailed for life. Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, declared in revealing to the United Press the dramatic conference of attorneys and relatives to decide on a line of action. "Neither the parents nor the defense attorneys want to see the boys freed," Darrow said, "but we do not want them to hang." Darrow told of the agonizing scene when the parents of the youthful slayers agreed to throw their sons' fate upon the mercy of the court. "We went into the matter thoroughly. We argued amongst ourselves at times but finally at a conference of attorneys and members of the families we decided that there was only one thing to do, to plead guilty and accept whatever the court decided. Young Leopold's father was particularly affected. He wept like a child."

CHICAGO, July 22.—"They deserve to hang!"

"They shall hang!"

This is the chant of death of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe—a chant which he insists he will carry on until Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, mount the gallows.

Crowe, his long pugmugious jaw set hard, his head like eyes flashing through his eye glasses, told the United Press today he will spare no effort until the youthful slayers are given the death sentence. He is calling 100 State witnesses and his entire staff of alienists and assistant prosecutors to show that the boys are sane, "and prove it so conclusively," that Chief Justice John R. Caverly, of the Criminal Court, "will have no other recourse than to impose the sentence of death on the defendants," who yesterday entered pleas of guilty to murder and kidnapping.

The chant of death is the peroration to almost every conversation with Crowe concerning the Franks case. He talks it to newspapermen, to his staff of prosecutors, to the attorneys for the defense.

When Benjamin Bachrach, an attorney for the defense, asked the court to allow alienists for both sides to submit a joint report on the mental condition of the boys, Crowe thrust out his jaw and cried:

"They are sane. They are guilty. They must hang, and they shall hang."

POLITICS CLAIMS LIFE OF EDITOR N SOUTH TEXAS

THREE RIVERS, Texas, July 22.—Jay R. Secrest, editor of the Oil News Weekly, published at Cullham and candidate for the State Legislature is reported to have been shot and killed in the oil fields ten miles west of here late last night. Poor communication lines prevented particulars incident to the killing reaching here early today. First reports, however, stated an oil field operator, whose name was not given, was implicated and animosities arising from the political campaign caused the shooting.

ALL DOGS MUST COMPLY WITH NEW LAW TODAY

Citizens are now complying with the requirements of the new ordinance providing for the vaccination of all dog inhabitants of this city against rabies. For the past several days, the yelps of canines has caused some folks to wonder whose kickin' my dog around. Upon investigation they found that they were merely submitting to the application of the vaccine, by which Mexia dogs are entitled to naturalization papers that make of them docile creatures and proverbial friends of man. According to orders received by the police department, there are to be no exceptions to the new law and members of the department will begin Wednesday to kill the dogs that have not met the requirements of the ordinance designed to protect public health and safeguard human life. It is the hope of the officials of the city that every citizen who owns a dog will have complied with the requirements of the law by tonight, so that the work will be light on the police force and easier on the dogs.

Rum Fleet Physician Braves Jail.

Dr. Royston Foulkes, an Australian, recent graduate in medicine from an English university, took as his first job the post of physician on the four-masted schooner "Rask," run running off the American coast. When Ralph Conrad, on the "Elsie B.," another runner in Rum Row, was severely burned, Dr. Foulkes realized his life would be lost unless he could get to a hospital. Knowing that he faced years in prison if he landed in America from the rum fleet, the physician responded to the call of his profession and took the injured sailor into New York. For his heroic act the Coast Guard refused to prosecute him, and returned him to the rum fleet under a flag of truce.

VICTORIOUS U. S. ATHLETES ARE HOMEWARD BOUND

PARIS, July 22.—America's victorious Olympic contenders are headed homeward. The games of 1924, are over—except for a few inconsequential events—and the United States has scored its most complete triumph of the thirty years since the modern Olympiads were inaugurated.

Champions in track and fields, swimming, rowing, boxing, rugby, wrestling and target shooting—our teams have totaled more than twice as many points as France, the nearest competitor.

According to the French committee's way of figuring, America's total point score for the eighth Olympiad is 95, France second with 47; Britain third, with 38 and Finland fourth with 34. There remains to be decided the championships in weight lifting, cycling, yachting and equestrian games, but nothing that can happen can detract from the convincing performance of the Americans against the world.

The games were a financial failure, bad sportsmanship developed frequently; crowds hissed and booed while the national anthem of a successful nation other than the French was being played and there were other causes for regret which led the English sports writers to declare the Olympic not worth while.

But to America, with her crop of new champions—the tennis titles captured by youngsters, Vincent Richards and Helen Wills, the swimming by our girls in their teens, the track and field games developing such titholders as Lee Barnes, California school boy and the target shooting producing a juvenile sensation—the games were certainly worth while in bringing out the new athletic strength of the United States and demonstrating our superiority in athletic endeavor.

Some of the American track and field stars went to London and "cleaned up" in a meet with the British in which the sportsmanship was in pleasing contrast to that of the games here. Others went to Vienna and swept everything before them there. The great Yale crew whose victory won us the rowing championship was scattered through Europe, Captain Rockefeller and some of the others planning to come home around the world.

He had been despondent since the death of his wife and had talked of committing suicide, according to his relatives.

LATIMER COUNTY IS QUIET AS SETTLEMENT IS SOUGHT

WILBURTON, Okla., July 22.—Latimer county settled down today to watchful waiting as preliminaries for the conference between union officials and operators in this section to attempt a settlement of the wage scale dispute get under way. The conference was called by Acting Governor Anglin for July 28, at Oklahoma City.

Adjutant General Baird Markham and a score of national guardsmen remained in this section today upon intelligence work.

Presence of the guardsmen, Markham pointed out, were not an indication of State control but merely for information sources to keep the adjutant in touch with conditions at the various mines.

Tension in the coal fields, where contrasting wage scales of union and open shop system caused a flare up at the Kala-Inda mine last Friday, when union workmen forced open shop workers to leave their post, had lessened today with the arrival of the State investigators.

OTHERS INJURED AS STEAMSHIP AND TANKER CRASH

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—The lives of four passengers were crushed out and a fifth hurled himself overboard in his grief at the loss of his wife. Others aboard the steamship Boston were badly injured when the vessel was rammed in a fog bound entrance to Rock Island Sound shortly before last midnight. The oil tanker Swift Arrow which crashed into the Boston in the dense fog, was able to make port under her own power. Six hundred passengers from the Boston were rescued in small boats and brought ashore here. The Boston was taking in water through a gaping hole in the starboard side, and was towed here. Tugs and coast guard cutters brought the injured and survivors.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—Sinking slowly, but with her 600 passengers safely transferred to rescue ships, the Eastern Steamship liner Boston, was towed towards Newport today following a midnight collision off Point Judith with the oil tanker Swift Arrow during a heavy fog. The Boston was being towed by the Fall River Line steamer Commonwealth.

The liner's passengers—she was one of the night boats plying between Boston and New York were taken to New York aboard the Fall River liner Priscilla, one of a host of large and small craft which answered the Boston's S.O.S.

The first known casualty of the crash was brought here today aboard the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. C. Copeland, of Brookline, Mass., was found to have sustained a fractured leg, shoulder blade and internal injuries. He was taken to Newport hospital.

Wireless messages from the fog-bound entrance to Block Island Sound, where the crash occurred, contained reports of four or five persons killed but later advices said these were "unreliable."

The Commonwealth got a line to the Boston and started slowly for Newport, eight miles away, with Captain A. W. Call, a wireless operator and a few hands remaining aboard the sinking steamer.

Upon a report that the liner might have to be beached before reaching here, another naval tug went out this morning. Already on the scene early today were three naval tugs, the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, the liner New York, sister ship of the Boston and several vessels of the Fall River line.

The Priscilla was due in New York with the Boston's passengers about 11 a. m.

The only available passenger list of the Boston was aboard the liner itself, and company headquarters at Boston, Mass., could not furnish the names of those who had taken the steamer which left at 5 p. m. Monday on her regular run to New York.

The Boston, which left Boston for New York last night was nosing her way cautiously southwestward, a short distance off Point Judith, R. I., in a dense blanket of fog when the accident occurred.

The liner has a capacity of 900 passengers and is generally well taxed during the summer season. About 600 were aboard last night.

The oiler loomed suddenly out of the darkness, according to first reports and struck the Boston amidship, tearing a hole in her side.

Whether those passengers reported killed were asleep in their state rooms which were stove-in upon them, or whether they were on the deck enjoying the cool night air, was not made clear in the early wireless messages which did not give the names of the dead.

Despite the confusion that followed immediately upon the crash, transferring of passengers to the tankers which was not badly damaged, began.

Lifeboats were lowered, the water being calm and no serious panic ensued.

Meanwhile the night was filled with "S.O.S." appeals and a Coast Guard cutter, three naval tugs and three of big liners that ply between Boston and New York were rushing to the position reported by the Boston.

Because of the fog the rescue

Says Piles Heal Up and Disappear Forever

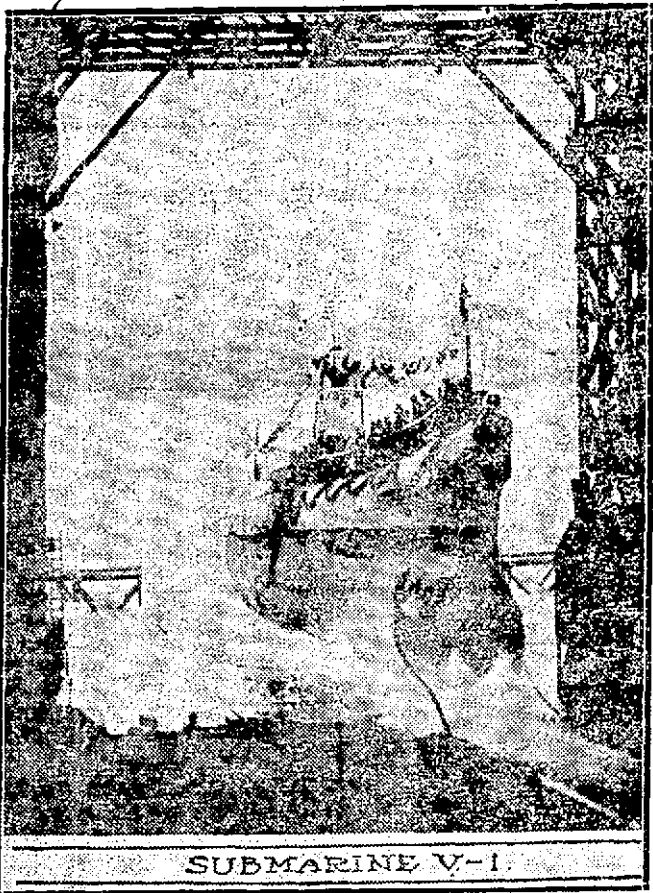

Seldom Fails to Give Absolute Relief from All Pain and Suffering. Guaranteed by All Good Druggists.

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained. MOAVA is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and any sufferer from Piles or Hemorrhoids who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. (Adv.)

Mont Blanc with Strawberries.

PARIS, July 22.—In the kitchen a "Mont Blanc" means a delicious mountain of strawberries with cream. Make a mold of biscuit de Savoie which is really a light sponge cake. Pipe on it a tall pyramid of whipped cream or thick Chantilly, Nap the cake as well.

Choose medium size strawberries and let stand in a syrup of kirsch for a good half hour. Stick them into the cream. Choose larger ones and roll in crystallized sugar. Place them in a wreath about the cake and also stick into the cream. Put the largest one on the summit.

One recipe for being happy is to get acquainted with all your good points and then cultivate them.—Pensacola News.

YOU HATE TO LOOK AT A PIMPLY FACE

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them, and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurements.

But now that Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them and making themselves attractive to others instead of being shunned all the time.

All dealers have Black and White Ointment, and Soap, in the convenient, low-priced, liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. (Adv.)

Here's How It Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

NUMBER X

Following Mr. Bryan's address in favor of the majority report of the platform committee, in which he had discussed the religious issue, the roll call of states proceeded and its results have become well known history. The majority plank was sustained by a majority of only one vote. The tabulation showed 542 3-20ths for the majority plank and 541 and 3-20ths against the majority report or for the minority plank condemning the Klan by name.

This happened about 1:50 a. m. the first Sunday morning of the convention session.

The vote was so close that every spectator and participant was "on his toes". Many had tabulated the results as the vote was recorded. Homer Cummings was busy during the critical period. Many states gained recognition from the chair and votes were changed for or against the planks, until it became obvious that the slight lead while the minority partisans were doing their utmost to change the votes necessary to win. The Chairman, Senator Walsh, also kept his eye on the results apparently and was evidently mightily glad to call for the vote to be announced. The minority would have won had a less fair Chairman presided. For, since the vote was so close, the opposition could have probably found some delegate who would have changed his vote to meet the desires of those who were behind the attack on the majority plank.

It is customary to say that a hush settles over an audience which knows it is about to experience a thrill. That was not true, however, at the close of the debate and voting on the religious issue. There was uneasy stir everywhere and noises intruded. When a state cast a vote in favor of the plank naming the Klan, opponents of the order gave vent to their feelings in shouts of rejoicing. By this time, too, friends of the majority report from all parts of the south, north, east and west, but especially from the south and west cheered every vote against the minority plank, greeting omission of the name Ku Klux Klan and also the language disapproving of "union of church and state" understood to have been anti-papal utterances, with much elation and approval.

So, it was that a religious battle was waged upon the floor of Madison Square Garden, which had it not taken place there, would have been waged in every congressional district in these United States where the Democratic party reaps a harvest of ballots. Heretofore, the platform has represented the thought and hopes and prayers of representatives whose decisions have usually been accepted quietly and with approval, certainly without disapproval. Still there were many in New York who claimed to be Democrats just like there are many all over Texas who claim to be Democrats, who reject the democratic party platform and try to make their own man ufacture. For example, today there are candidates for office in this State who totally ignore the platform of principles of the party. The Democrats voted to keep the Klan name out of politics and here in this county today, especially where it is popular to do so, there are candidates who are injecting its name at every opportunity. If they are not pleased with the Democratic party's stand on the principle as propounded in the platform why do they not get out of the party, organize one of their own whims and run on its ticket, instead of posing before the people at the polls as being what they are not.

Let us join Mr. Bryan in his great appeal and say Christians quit your fighting. "I call you back in the name of our party. I call you back in the name of our God. I call you back in the name of our Savior." Don't inject the Klan into the campaign. It has no place in it, just as it had no place in the platform as enunciated by the National Convention.

The issue was injected into the National convention wholly by political manipulation and greedy politicians used it there for their own private gains just as they are trying to use it now back home in sections and neighborhoods in this county.

It was the tragedy of the party at New York in a large measure. Never were Democrats more united than they were when the session convened, as far as great party principles and issues were concerned.

At the conclusion of the debate, William Gibbs McAdoo's chances for nomination had faded with those of Alfred E. Smith. The religious strife together with the dark horse, that proved to be stalking horses, sometimes called favorite sons, brought about the defeat of Mr. McAdoo. Alabama and Virginia held out against Mr. McAdoo and for their own favorite sons. Had they not divided the South, Mr. McAdoo would have received the majority of votes at one juncture, and then, other dark horses would have gotten out of the way and he would have been nominated. Had he been nominated, the Al Smith element would have bolted the party. The common expression by New Yorkers, during the convention, was that they would not vote for any Democrat nominee unless it was Al Smith.

The balloting on the President began at the session following the culmination of the scrap on the platform, which led to the selection of John W. Davis, a great patriot, an able statesman, and one of the mighty men of the Democratic party.

True blue Democrats will stand by the platform and by its nominees. We are democrats.

LETTERS From the People

In regard to the speaking of Jamie Heron here Friday night, Val Horn has received the following letter:

Waco, Texas, July 21, 1924.

Anderson & Horn Drug Co.,

Mexia, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Jamie Heron, recognized thru-out the country as one of America's leading inspirational speakers and writers, is in Texas for the purpose of writing a story on the possibilities and grandeur of Texas. Mr. Heron will speak in your city on Friday evening, July 25th, at 8 o'clock, and I sincerely hope that it will be possible for you to hear him. He is visiting with the writer and on the account you will have the opportunity of hearing him without cost to your community, which otherwise would be rather expensive for you because of the necessity of bringing him to you and reimbursing him for his time.

His whole purpose of visiting you is because of my having requested him to do so in connection with the story which he is preparing on Texas. You have never heard, I am sure, a more eloquent speaker or one who is more interesting and entertaining and I trust that you will hear him.

Sincerely yours,
J. M. Penland,

MANY FIGURED IN STEAMER CRASH

vessels could not safely approach too close to the stricken liner, for the waters all about were filled with life boats.

As for the Boston, her fires were drawn, which meant that power to operate the big siren was missing and the vessel's lights were dimmed.

Afraid to push too close to the Boston, for fear of ramming a life boat, the large ships played their powerful searchlights on the water and toward the welcome circles of light, piercing the fog, the boat's crews rowed.

The master and the radio operator stayed aboard the Boston and sent a warning to the rescue ships:

"Be careful of the small boats on our starboard side. Our condition fair."

Aboard the Boston was Post Captain Charles T. Snow, commodore of the Eastern Steamship Company's fleet.

Although the conflicting wireless messages flashed ashore said four—one report said five—had been killed aboard the Boston, a message from C. A. Smith, said:

"Reports of death are unreliable. The message did not explain itself.

The naval station at Newport sent the tugs Rail, Teal and Boblink while the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, which was on duty on "Rum Row," was early headed for the scene.

The Swift Arrow was bound from Fall River to San Francisco. Its course lay across that of the Eastern Steamship liner and the tanker struck the passenger steamer on the starboard side.

Lookouts on neither vessel observed the other until but a few yards separated them.

Immediately following the collision which threw passengers on the Boston into confusion, both vessels set up a wailing and shrieking of sirens, while Captain Call took a hasty inventory of the damage and ordered the lifeboats manned.

Passengers were ordered to the boats, many of them partly clad and were lowered over the side and rowed to the Swift Arrow.

She tanker could not accommodate all those who sought safety in flight from the Boston and many lifeboats paddled about, awaiting the rescue ships.

Soon the Boston's siren began to sound more and more faintly. When the first of the naval tugs arrived and asked the liner to keep sounding her siren, the wireless operator replied that the power was gone. The steamer's lights had gradually gone out and only the feeble flicker of oil lanterns showed in the fog.

Word of picking up the passengers who were in the small boats was proceeded with caution.

Meanwhile the water was pouring in through a gaping hole in the Boston's side. It was feared she was sinking.

With the passengers apparently safely picked up—although a wireless message picked up at 5:20 a. h., said "report all boats picked up. Several missing." The Commonwealth shot a line to the Boston and took her in tow, heading for Newport, eight miles away.

Miss Sophdine Ward has just returned from a pleasant visit with Mrs. A. P. King at her country home "Long Acre," at White Rock near Dallas.

“For Mexia, I WILL”

“Let every man pray that he may have the good fortune to spend his energies and life in the service of his fellow man, in order that he may die, to be recorded on the rolls of those who have not thought of themselves but of those whom they have served.”—Woodrow Wilson.

Home Owning Stabilizes A City

The community and city that wishes to be really great must develop within its citizens the home loving and home owning instinct. It is true that in order to have a home it is not necessary to own a house. Frequently people own a house who do not enjoy a good home life. Love can reign in a cottage even though the rent is high or the monthly payments are hard to make. But all things being equal, the city reflects greatest progress that can show the largest per centage of people who own or are in the way to own their own home and hearthstones. The cottage merges with the home idea; it becomes an integral part of the home experience such as it never could do if the firm foothold of the landlord were periodically heard on the doorstep. However this may be, there is nothing that tends to stability and strength in a community more than for citizens to own their own homes. Mexia citizens, struggling to earn their way through the world for themselves and their loved ones, appreciate deeply every big hearted fellow man who helps them own their homes. The city is most fortunate which can boast of men who live not solely for self but who go out of their way, day by day, to make the city better and brighter and to bring cheer to their fellow citizens. They are helping to build a real city here.

Citizens, Do Your Duty!

At the Democratic Convention in New York City, Senator Pat Harrison sounded a keynote for the party. He reviewed the graft and greed of the Republicans who had betrayed the trust the party had imposed in them and made an eloquent plea in behalf of clean, business like government by the Democratic party. The Democrats now must take the lesson home and apply the keynote to their own party, to their own communities, counties and states where they are in the saddle and on the throne. In the consideration of this phase of his address, there comes to the mind the memory of a famous quotation that invites those without blame to cast the first stone. Democratic citizens, in democratic primaries, in democratic counties of a democratic state must go to the polls next Saturday with the idea full grown and beautiful to consider that they must help secure clean government for themselves and their children by voting for dependable men and women of lofty character whose records are too high and above reproach for the hand of the prober to ever reach and pull down. Patriotism does not end at home but it surely begins at home. Limestone County and Texas for the day are “America.”

When the ballot is being perused and considered, pause before each candidate and ask; is he the right sort of character; will he serve his county or himself; will he be the kind of office holder that I, as a good Democrat, can point to with the pride of one who knows that he is giving his vote to someone who will safeguard the interests of the whole people, without regard to special privileges being extended to anyone; will he bring to the office that highest type of efficiency which will help us to build a greater county and conduct the office in such a manner as to reflect honor to himself and credit to his people? Our public domain has been preyed upon by millionaire plunderers; our natural resources have been the objective of gigantic corporations. As Mr. Bryan said in his address at New York, the swindlers have stolen more than ten times as much as was stolen by all the inmates of all the prisons in these United States today. In all directions the terrific energies of those exalted by special privileges have been expended in wresting from the hand of labor the results of the sweat of its brow, leaving a trail of discontent and want in its wake.

“Antiquity was scandalized when Cleopatra dissolved and drank a pearl valued at four hundred thousand dollars; and historians comment in tones of rebuke upon the luxuries of Lucullus, who spent eight thousand five hundred dollars on a feast.”

The Latins sunk under the weight of special privilege, but Americans, Texans, sons of the Alamo, are descendants of a sturdier race than the Latins. It was the Teuton, our progenitors, who annihilated the Roman force, that called to the lips of the Emperor Augustus the cry, “Oh, Varus, give me back my Legions!”

And if Limestone County citizens, if Texas citizens who profess faith in the Democratic party and who give their allegiance to it, tamely submit to those who would erect strongholds upon the heights of special privilege, then we will be the first branch of the great family of which we are a member that ever weakened in the face of opposition or who surrendered supinely to its whims and mandates.

Men and women, Limestone County expects every citizen to do his duty next Saturday, from the Governor to Constable.

NEGRO SERIOUSLY INJURED ON GEORGE EVANS FARM
Raymond Dupree, colored, was seriously injured late Monday afternoon on the George Evans farm about three miles northwest of Mexia. Dupree was at work at the foot of a windmill when an iron pipe fell about thirty feet striking him on the head and fracturing his skull. He was rushed to the Brown hospital where an operation was performed by Drs. Hamm and Brown. Immediately after the operation he was carried to his home in the J. I. Riddle ambulance, and is expected to recover.

OFFICIAL CALL FOR PRECINCT CONVENTION
By virtue of the authority in me vested I hereby call a democratic precinct convention to meet in the Knights of Pythias hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, July 23, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention, a precinct chairman for the next two years, and for such other business as may properly come before the convention.

MAN INJURED BY FLYWHEEL
John Allen was painfully but not seriously injured on the Sun Company lease Monday afternoon, while working near a running engine with a long handle shovel, the shovel struck the fly wheel and the handle part of the shovel was thrown through his arm near the shoulder. The handle was not broken but the blunt end penetrated his arm for about three feet, barely missing the bone. He is resting nicely in the Brown hospital.

DAVIS WORKS ON FIRST SPEECH IN RACE FOR PRESIDENT

By P. B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DARK HARBOR, Maine, July 21.—Preparatory work on his speech accepting the presidential nomination of the Democratic party was started by John W. Davis Monday.

Freshened by a week-end of golf and the crisp air of the Maine coast, the candidate plunged into work in the best of spirits. The big studio of Charles Dana Gibson at his home on 700-acre Island in Penobscot Bay was converted into a study for the nominee and fitted with every comfort.

Davis went over a mass of correspondence with his secretaries this morning and began work on the material which he will incorporate in his acceptance speech at Clarksburgh, W. Va., next month.

Davis has not decided on the principal points of his speech and may not do so until the end of the week. He was to talk several points over with Frank Polk at luncheon today.

MACHEN SPEAKING DATE ADVERTISED IN SECTION

Friends of C. H. Machen are today distributing circulars throughout the section in which it is stated that Mr. Machen, "candidate for District Judge of the 77th Judicial District," will "address the voters of the district at Mexia, Wednesday, July 23, at 8:30 p. m. Mr. Machen will present the claims of his candidacy and will freely, frankly and fearlessly discuss the important issues involved in the campaign. A most cordial invitation is extended the public and ladies are especially urged to be present. Comfortable seats will be provided for the ladies. Speaking down town on street reserved."

HEAVY BURDEN ON PEOPLE

In past nine years, more than 100,000 permanent federal officials have been added to the rolls—increasing cost $195,591,000.

State official payrolls have been increased in numbers and cost so that altogether one out of every twelve workers is a government employee.

Additional laws enacted by Congress and state legislatures at increase taxes and take money away from the producing citizens.

It has been the slogan of the last two presidents that government payrolls must be cut down in numbers.

Pennsylvania, Illinois, Washington and Idaho have consolidated boards and commissions and materially cut their overhead.

Every state in the union and every department of the federal government could probably trim at least 25 per cent off its overhead.

Why not do it?

James Blair Harris was a business visitor here from Dallas last Friday.

The ladies of the Eastern Star held their regular installation session Monday night at the Masonic Temple.

Gushers Go To Austin For Four Day Series

SLOW FIELDING MARS FOURTH VICTORY BY MARLIN

By HECK

The Marlin Batthers added insult to injury Monday when they walloped the Gushers the final tilt of a four game series and thusly won three of the four games and sent the local crew on their way to Austin with blood in their eye for revenge and let's hope that they take it out on Melver, Hubbard & Co. There was not much to the game except that the Gushers played miserable ball in the field—not a game filled with errors for there were but three but a game which slow fielding, slow thinking and still slower work on the bases spelled defeat. On the other hand the Batthers were playing with their heads up and ran the bases in big league fashion collecting a total of five stolen sacks on the day's play mostly which were due to slow work of the Gusher infielders getting over on throws from both Williamson and Fowlkes. The gang opens a four day stand in Austin today and come home for a four game tilt with the league leading Waco Indians next Saturday with a double header set for Sunday in which Jeffries will probably fling his mit at the Indians in both games.

COTTON GIN WINS FROM WORTHAM

The Cotton Gin Terrors continued their winning streak yesterday by defeating Wortham on their own grounds, by the score of 13 to 6. The Gin boys made 6 runs in the first inning and sent the first Wortham pitcher scurrying for cover. The next pitcher fared no better, and even the third one wilted under the heavy batting of the Terrors, which has so characterized their playing in the last six games. The Cotton Gin pitcher held Wortham on his hip for three innings, and after being hit by a pitched ball on the arm, retired in favor of Lightsey. Lightsey was wild, and the Terrors used two other pitchers in the remaining part of the game. Tisdale, the Gin first pitcher is one of the best in this part of the country, having much speed and per-er is failing a helluva lot of racket in defense of his beloved Tribe who may as well take the handle out of their tomahawk if they lose Pee Wee. After all is said and done you gotta hand it to Dupuy for pulling the champion David Harum of the T-A loop and it was to be expected that there was a hook in the deal somewhere when he "sold out" to the Waco sports for twenty-five hundred and I'll stake a bet that Dupuy still has his finger in the Waco club as of old and right now is sitting back grinning like a jacksack eating briars at the latest stink he has raised in the circuit. Right now both clubs are going to the mat with the high powers that be in the baseball world and like nearly all bouts of this kind the club with the bank roll usually wins and at this moment Austin has it on the Waco sports. My hunch is that the league is not yet found a cure for the running sore that Dupuy started it with and I'll stake a bet we will have it with us at the opening of next season.

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE GREAT PORT, SAYS DOLLAR

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Captain Robert Dollar, veteran shipping magnate, today firmly believes that this city will before long surpass New York as the first port in America, following his return from a round-the-world trip, in which he saw at first hand the amazing strides China and the Orient generally were making in securing world commerce.
Growth of the Far East in economic importance and surpassing by the Panama Canal of yearly tonnage records of the Suez Canal was given as reasons why, in time, San Francisco will be among the greatest ports in the world.

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELEIER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.
PARIS, July 22.—Felt hats are now in readiness for hot July days. They made their first appearance at the fashionable Steeplechase races, at Auteuil, on Sunday, when all the smart Parisians came out to greet the new President of the Republic. It was his first real bow to the public since his election, and all society was there.
Straw and lace hats were in evidence, but the smartest were in felt, in severe black, pale gray, white and biscuit color. The shape seemed to be a question taste, for there were large "canotiers" and small, close-fitting ones; hats with rolled brims and hats with drooping ones.
These new felts have very little trimming; in fact, many had none at all, except, perhaps, a twist of felt at the side. Many were trimmed with bunches of large red roses; indeed, one almost came away with the idea that nothing would be tolerated on the felt hat except the bunch of roses, and it is a pleasant change after a long absence of artificial flowers. There is nothing else to break the severe line—no buckles or ribbons, only the dash of color.
Hartie Regnier, the actress-modiste who has recently set up a stylish establishment, was wearing a smart hat of yellow felt, with a new high crown and rolled brim. She has spurned roses for this one and trimmed it with a circlet of small gray birds at the base of the crown. Regine Florey, another well-known actress, wore a large brown velvet hat, with a long brown plume falling over one shoulder, and the crown ornamented with a pin in large diamonds.
These Summer felts may not look as cool as straw hats, but they really are, because they come in very fine quality, light in weight and highly finished, with a rounded crown, rather high, and a narrow brim slightly rolled above the face. To wear with them are handsome scarves of black crepe, with large red roses printed at intervals.
The absence of sunshades was very noticeable. There were but two in the entire paddock, and they were carried by old ladies who did not trust their complexions to ivory-colored powder and new felt bonnets.

Mystery Railroad Built By Houston

PORT ARTHUR, July 22.—The "mystery railroad" which settlers who have lived in this section for 65 years couldn't explain, was built at the order of Sam Houston when Texas was fighting Mexico for independence in 1836.

This information was given by J. R. Mitchell of Carson, La., who said his grandfather told him the story of the road. The line was built for military purposes, but was never used by General Houston as a military measure.

PHYSICIAN DECLARES HE HAS CURE FOR HAY FEVER

(By International News Service) BOSTON, July 22.—The freedom of the sneeze is a thing of the past, according to Dr. Andreas Christian, well-known Marlboro street physician and surgeon, who claims to have discovered a cure and preventive for hay fever. The discovery was made partly through an accident, according to Dr. Christian.

The treatment consists in part of inhalation from a device charged with ozone, eucalyptus, alcohol and other medicinal ingredients.

It was while using a somewhat similar device in treating a patient that Dr. Christian became aware the treatments were more effective in the evening than in the morning. Investigation revealed leakage or a short circuit when his office was electrically lighted in the evening that set up a beneficial action in the medicines used. Further research resulted in designing the device with which the physician claims he has made many permanent cures of hay fever victims.
